

Honor Code Agreement

Introduction

An Honor Code establishes a fundamental social contract within which the University community agrees to live. This contract relies on the conviction that personal and academic integrity of each individual member strengthens and improves the quality of life for the entire community. The Honor Code is vital to the Building Community Campaign, which is striving to develop a welcoming and supportive climate in which all people are respected and free to express their differences.

defining part of the CU-Boulder campus. The Honor Code allows all students to

- ❑ Looking at another person's exam for answers
- ❑ Bringing and using unauthorized notes during an exam

Fabrication: Falsification or creation of data, research resources, or altering a graded work without the prior consent of the course instructor.

- ❑ Making up a reference for a works cited page
- ❑ Making up statistics or facts for academic work

Aid of Academic Dishonesty Intentionally facilitating plagiarism, cheating, or fabrication

- Helping another person do a take home exam
- Giving answers to an exam
- Collaborating with others on work that is supposed to be completed independently

Lying: Deliberate falsification with the intent to deceive in written or in verbal form as it applies to an academic submission.

Bribery: Providing, offering, or taking rewards in exchange for a grade, an assignment or the aid of academic dishonesty.

- Paying a student to do work on your behalf
- Attempting to pay a teacher to change a grade

Threat: An attempt to intimidate a student, staff, faculty member for the purpose of receiving an unearned grade or in an effort to prevent the reporting of an Honor Code violation.

Before signing this agreement, please read the University of Colorado Honor Code at <http://www.colorado.edu/academics/honorcode/>

I have read and am familiar with the provisions of the Honor Code and agree to comply with those provisions while a student at the University of Colorado at Boulder and further agree that the submission of any academic work shall constitute a representation on my part both that work has been done, and its submission is being made, in compliance with all applicable provisions of the Code. Furthermore, my responsibility includes taking